Why Do They Do It?

We are some over twenty-one, and have a pretty keen eye for beauty, be it in nature or the "human form divine," but what twists our old noodle and mixes us up with things, is why will comely young girls powder and paint their faces into the semblance of china dolls when they would be and are much prettier in their natural skin? The lady who notes the sure ravages of time and possibly too rich living, must perforce use a bit of powder, even a daub of rouge to try to bring back her early youth, but the sweet young maiden of the teens does not need this, and applying it in the quantities many do, simply mark themselves as "sports," or would have one believe they had lived so fast that they must cover up the decay by these artificial means. If the little maidens need apply the brush at their tender years, when they are forty they will need a trowel to lay on the extra and unnatural coating. After all it is probably but imitation of their heroines of the movies that causes this habit, but whatever it is, we hope they may see their folly and let us once more have the girl with the natural face and not the one with the drug store makeup.

Easiest Solution of Crime Question

With congress, state legislatures and city councils, as well as many civic organizations having investigating committees, who file reams and volumes of reports as to the cause of crime, why is not a little common sense used and the true solution discovered? In a majority of criminal actions the perpetrator is an idle man or woman, at least they have no visible means of support, and could easily be handled by the vagrancy laws of the land. A reasonable surveillance would pick out every person in a neighborhood whose income is derived from questionable means. No honest man will object to telling how he makes his living, nor will he object to the inquiry of the proper officials. In Chicago we have thousands of professional criminals whom the police know to be criminals, roaming the streets waiting for the opportunity to separate some person from their rightful property, even though they must sacrifice life to do it, and these thousands are teaching thousands more to follow in their footsteps, and it is all because the vagrancy laws are a joke, and not enforced. We all know men who live well, yet we or no one else have ever known them to do a day's work to turn an honest penny; why cannot they be investigated and if necessary placed under surveillance and made to show how they obtain their means? Prevent idleness, and you will do much to suppress crime.

Vernon Theatre

Mr. Barry offers an extraordinary fine bill at the Vernon all of the coming week. Today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, the 14th and 15th, he presents Clara Kimball Young in a drama of emotion, "The Forbidden Woman." Diane Sorel, a celebrated young French artiste, gives but smiles to her countless admirers, though she flirts and coquettes to her heart's content. One of her admirers, Andre De Clermont, unhappy over his love for her, commits suicide in her apartment. Diane is held blameless, though the notoriety of it all nearly crushes her. Fleeing, in dread of her old surroundings, she seeks seclusion in America. But after numerous misunderstandings, true love triumphs and the two find the end of the rainbow together.

On Sunday, May 16th, comes a big double event in Bert Lytell's up-to-the-minute play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," with a splendid cast. Also a very funny Sennett comedy. Continuous from 2 to 11 o'clock.

On Monday, May 17th, the wonderful Houdini in his most startling presentation of "Terror Island," for which he traveled the Southern Seas and became a god among the natives by his wonderful mysterious acts.

On Tuesday, May 18th, comes the magnificent picturization, splendidly acted by an all star cast of well known artists, "Blind Youth." The story was adapted for the screen from the play of the same name by Katherine Reed. It deals with the ups and downs of an artist who loves not wisely but too well. He was cast off by two women, his mother and model, only to be rescued for fame by a third on the brink of a lake and fiasco. It's a photoplay in which romance, comedy and drama have their fling at the center of the stage. Put together in the typical Willard Mack manner, which means that it is logical, coherent and holds the interest throughout.

On Wednesday and Thursday, May 19th and 20th, that greatest of all living actors, John Barrymore, in Robert Louis Stevenson's great story, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." It's hardly necessary to introduce the story of this famous picture to our patrons which in novel form has probably been read by everyone the world over, and its screen presentation is equally perfect.

While making the rounds of the parks it is a pleasant feature to drive out of the south end of Washington Park and visit the pretty Vernon. Always a good show on and a pleasant evening assured.

A BUSINESS TRIBUTE

By William I. Ferris, Vice-President and co-worker in the L. E. Waterman Company from its beginning

The world has always taken an unusual interest in inventors, probably because it recognizes that inventors, as a rule, are unselfish and that whatever reward they may gain through their invention has to be a by-product of a greater service or saving of time and labor to his millions of fellow men and women.

Howe invented the sewing machine, but the whole world enjoys the benefit of it. Likewise is the case with Morse and the telegraph; Bell and the telephone; Edison and the electric light; Fulton and the steamship.

There is no use trying to arrange them in the order of their importance in the world to-day because to deprive us of any one of them, even for the briefest of periods, would amount to almost a calamity.

I do not hesitate to add the name of Lewis Edson Waterman and his invention, Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen, to this list of world benefactors.

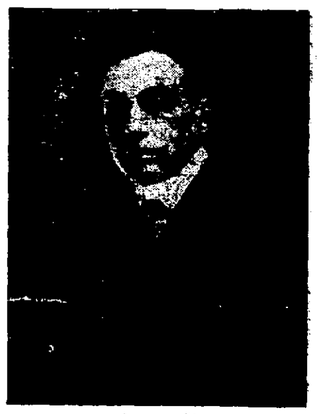
The history of Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen has a peculiar personal interest for the people of Illinois because she can rightly claim Lewis Edson Waterman as one of her sons.

As a child, he came with his mother and younger brother and settled in Kankakee, and it was in the little old wagon shop, conducted by his brother, Elisha S. Waterman, that the first model of Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen was turned out in wood.

Back in those old days, the gold pen and rubber-turning industries were located wholly in the East, requiring that the business of fountain-pen making be carried to the source of supply, and so in the smallest possible way the L. E. Waterman Company's business was established in New York. Mr. L. E. Waterman made his principal headquarters in New York up to the time of his death, while his brother, Elisha S. Waterman, assumed the interest of the Company in the West for the short time he lived. The Chicago office was opened at the same time the business was started in New York, and for many years was conducted in the most modest circumstances.

It has been said by some writer, "the name Waterman started as a man—became a pen—and is now a world-wide institution." How true that is can be shown by the great growth of this truly wonderful business. From the early beginning in the little wagon-making shop in Kankakee, and the equally insignificant work-bench at the back of a cigar store on Fulton Street, New York, where pens were made by hand—and the total output then was 200 in a year—to 5,000,000 Waterman's Ideals sold during 1919, is an achievement that tells its own story. It would be interesting to show the buildings, step by step and year by year that have been erected to care for the physical growth of this splendid industry. The first factory was a little, two-story, frame building; to-day the business of the L. E. Waterman Company occupies five factories; two in New York, two in Seymour, Connecticut, and one in Canada. Ground has been purchased in Newark, New Jersey, whereon the Company is about to build another great factory covering 500,000 square feet of operating space. In Chicago, the business was first established and carried on at a desk in the rear of the Congregational Book Store, on Wabash Avenue. After many years at that point, a new location was found over on State Street, at the present North American Building site. When the new North American Building was being erected, the Company moved to the Republic Building, going from there to 115 South Clark Street, where offices have been maintained for the past ten years. Then again it was found necessary to seek enlarged quarters in order to better serve a constantly growing number of dealers and users in the middle west, and on Monday morning, May 10th, what will be known as the Waterman Building, at 127-129 South State Street, was opened for business. To meet the demand, the Company found it necessary to erect their own building, and on the property directly adjoining the old Palmer House, a modern, up-to-the-minute seven-story building will become the new Chicago home of the L. E. Waterman Company, and add glory to the best traditions of this splendid old organization. The New York service store of the L. E. Waterman Company, at 191 Broadway, known as the Pen Corner throughout the world, has often been said to be one of the most artistically correct and magnificent display rooms to be found anywhere, but the architects promise to out-do even that last effort, and Chicago will have every reason to include this newest addition to its already long list of show places. With the upper floors devoted to stock and assembling rooms, the Company will be better able to handle the great volume of middlewest business, and the new Waterman Building is but another evidence of the keen judgment that anticipates conditions and makes good the statement—satisfied customers everywhere.

WATERMAN BUILDING, 129 SOUTH STATE STREET, CHICAGO, ILL.



FRED S. WATERMAN

Mr. Frank D. Waterman, President, and Mr. Fred S. Waterman, Secretary, of the L. E. Waterman Company, through combining their unusual abilities and mastery of detail, have given evidence of what team-work can accomplish, for after all is said, a man's business is but the reflection of the man himself. The fidelity of hundreds and hundreds of employees testifies more eloquently than anything else how the personality of the Waterman boys has fixed itself upon their organization.

It is what might be termed the Waterman way of doing things—establishing the highest standards for themselves and then living up to them. You know it is because of these qualities that success has come to them, and their product, because a record of steadily increasing sales, year after year, and in one country after the other, carries its own answer.

Say Mr. Well Dresser!

Have you seen those Suits that are on sale at Musser-Lorenz Co., at $47.50. There's a fellow at the office bought one and he compared it with one that Jack bought in one of the loop stores at $62.50, and believe me, it is some Suit for $47.50.

Nine of the boys guessed at the price and all guessed the suit bought at Musser-Lorenz Co. for $47.50 was by far the best suit. So if you are thinking of buying a suit, I would advise you to go to that store at once and select one of those suits while the sale lasts.

Clean Up and Decorate

With the beautiful spring comes the annual clean-up, and with it should come a system of rejuvenating and decorating your premises inside and out. Above all take care of the lawns, you that have them. Plant a few flowers or shrubbery in front of your place, nothing is more pleasing and beautifying. Window and porch boxes add much to the the appearance of a street, and are inexpensive. Let all join to beautify our home district, and everyone doing their little share will help out wonderfully.

Funeral Experience

Our undertaking experience has enabled us to furnish a burial service that will meet with critical approval at a price of undoubted fairness. We consider that a low-priced funeral noted for its elegance and perfectness in detail is a distinct achievement.

Must Raise $500,000 in June for Auburn Park Hospital

The $500,000 fund raising campaign for the new Auburn Park hospital will be launched some time in June. Work is progressing nicely at headquarters and we are told everything will be in readiness at that time.

A life membership plan is being worked at headquarters wherein all persons who contribute fifty dollars or more to the hospital will have a voice in selecting the twenty-one directors who will carry on the management of the hospital. The directors so elected are to serve without remuneration.

Everybody must realize that the people back of this campaign are giving their time and personal effort for the good of the community. People every day are realizing more and more the congested conditions of the hospitals all over Chicago and especially south of 55th st.

A committee will be appointed to call on the various clubs and societies as well as lodges and unions in the district in an effort to get them to donate a room or ward in their name. No stone will remain unturned in an effort to get funds for this much needed hospital.

As there are hundreds of industries in this section, the laboring man as well as the one of means know the great benefit to be derived from a hospital. It is such a common occurrence for the doctor to be told that there is no room in the hospitals that the truth of the situation is brought home to all.

The campaign committee feel very much encouraged over the fact that there is so much interest being manifested by the people of all classes and that when the time comes for the drive in June thousands will most cheerfully respond to the call and give most liberally.

The new hospital will be five stories and basement and will be most beautifully situated on 78th pl. and Eggleston ave. fronting on Lagoon park.

No Need to Worry When Mother's In the Hospital

To most people enjoying reasonably good health, the hospital is simply a place where the sick are given medical attention.

Hospitals carry on a work of vital importance to the community, its chief asset is health. The work of alleviating pain, healing the broken and restoring the sick to health and vigor is not only of prime importance, but never ending.

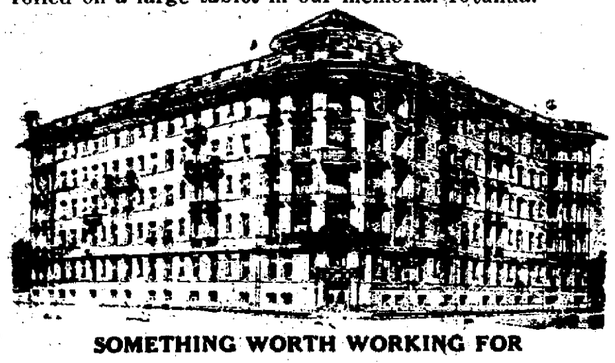
Public hospitals cannot refuse admission of the sick. With these facts in mind, there is no reason why people should not support such an institution.

All persons contributing fifty dollars or more, receive a life membership and have a voice in selecting members of the twenty-one directors who will serve without remuneration in the management of the new hospital.

Small gifts of less than $50.00 will be acceptable. Many thousand small donations will be received and these small amounts all help to make the $500,000.

Clubs and societies may be represented as a body and pay for a ward, room, as they see fit. Donations in honor of some freind will be a worthy memorial.

Each person contributing towards the hospital will be doing his bit for a worthy institution that will benefit the community. The names of all contributors will be enrolled on a large tablet in our memorial rotunda.



"Cannot make a profit" says the charter issued by the state and is granted to the new Auburn Park Hospital with the understanding that it is to be run without profit.

The drive starts in June to collect the money. If you can help the campaign committee in your neighborhood, we would like to have you send in your name and address.

INVEST YOUR MONEY WISELY

The safest forms of investments have always been real estate mortgages secured by farm land. This is proved by the fact that the life insurance companies—the largest investors in the world—prefer farm loans over any other form of security. Producing farm land is better security than city realty. The principal value of city property rests in improvements which sooner or later become antiquated or unsuited to the needs of a changing neighborhood The unforseen influx of undesirable neighbors adversely affects the value of city real estate. Farm land is free from both of these menaces, for every year shows a steady advance in the average value of farm property. It is this constantly increasing security which makes farm mortgages so desirable. For years we have been making farm mortgages and selling them to conservative investors in Chicago. We collect interest and principal without charge. That we have succeeded in building up a reputation for care and conservatism is apparent from the fact that we now have several hundred customers in Chicago and others in over 30 states.
Send for our Illustrated Booklet describing these safe investments.

Murder of W. C. Krauter

What has proven a very mysterious affair was the shooting and killing of William C. Krauter, a Halsted st. real estate man, in the home of E. E. DeForrest at 6428 Union ave. Last Friday night Mr. and Mrs. DeForrest, their daughter, Dorothy, Earl Grover, Mrs. Grover, and their daughter Eleanor, Mr. Krauter and two physicians, Dr. C. H. Lovewell and Dr. E. E. Simpson, were overcome by gas in the house, the physicians after they had been called to aid the others. Mr. Krauter, who was rooming there, returned home about 10 o'clock and discovered the others and in resuscitating the children was himself overcome. They were taken to the hospital and all have recovered. Mr. Krauter returned to the house to sleep Sunday night and found the house and his room ransacked and was shot in the abdomen. His shouts attracted the attention of David Winton, a neighbor, who rushed in and found Mr. Krauter but no sign of a burglar. The police were called and Mr. Krauter taken to the hospital where he died early the next morning. An air of mystery pervades the entire affair and the fact that Mr. Krauter and his wife were separated complicated matters, although it is said they were reconciled at the hospital before his death. An inquest held Tuesday was adjourned to give the police an opportunity to investigate further. Captain Ryan believes that burglars, thinking the house was vacant, had entered and when discovered by Mr. Krauter, shot him.

Select Scout for Trip to London, England

This is the week when every troop of scouts in Chicago will select by secret ballot the best all around first class scout. This scout will meet with others to be examined by a committee at district headquarters, 206 W. 63rd st., on Monday evening, May 17th. Twenty-five per cent of those eligible at this examination will meet with representatives from other parts of the city at the central headquarters, and the best one from the whole city will then be selected. This is a trip offered by the Chicago council with all expenses paid to London, England, where representatives of scouting from all parts of the world will meet during July and August.

There is keen interest in this selection and boys are eager for such a trip.

Part of the program across the water will be a visit to the battle fields of France and the graves of the American soldiers resting there.

Southwest Camp

The Southwest Camp is now a reality. It is situated on the shores of Diamond Lake, Illinois, northwest of Chicago, Lake county. The name of the camp is Camp Ken Jockety, an Indian name, meaning "far from the crowd." The low rate, including transportation to and from Chicago, board, and all camping privileges, will be $12 for two weeks.

The camp will accommodate 64 scouts every two weeks. Registrations are in order at once at district headquarters, with a one dollar deposit. The camp folder is on the press and will be out in a few days. There will be four periods: July 5-17, July 19-31, Aug. 2-14, Aug. 14-28. The field scout executive, Claude V. Hines, will be in charge of the camp the entire summer, assisted by men who are competent in taking care of boys.

A unique hike is being planned for troop 608, St. Paul's Evangelical church, 94th and Winchester, for May 22nd and 23rd, when sons will show their fathers how to hike. This is a father and son over night hike. The scouts will cook the meals, and the fathers will entertain the boys around the camp fire at night with ghost stories and stories of early Indian lore.

This hike is the result of a father and son banquet held at the church last Friday evening when real interest was shown in the scouting program.

Better Than Medicine.

Remember that medicine is, for most part, nothing but the substitute of exercise and right thinking. And it does not take a great deal of either right thinking or fresh air to enable you to throw off any ordinary symptom of illness. All that is necessary is for you to hold in your mind the thought that you are both healthy and cheerful.

What Government Supervision Means

THE National Banks of this Country have grown more in the past six years, or say from August 9, 1913 to November 17, 1919, than they did in the entire fifty years from the inauguration of the National Banking System in 1868. The record of immunity from failure for the twenty-two months from January 1, 1918, to the close of the fiscal year, October 31, 1919, was thirty times or 3000% better than the record for the forty years prior to the year 1914. There was no failure which involved a dollar's loss to depositors of any national bank in the fiscal year closing October 31, 1919. By becoming one of our depositors you share the benefits from government supervision in connection with conservatism practiced by officials of this bank.

HALSTED THEATRE

Englewood people will soon be given a chance to not only see how wonderfully well Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion of the world, "screens," but to see how excellently he acts, for the first episode of "The Evil Eye," titled "Below the Dead Line," also the second episode, titled "In the House of the Blind Men," will be presented at the Halsted Theatre 62nd and Halsted Sts, Wednesday May 19th.

The great financial interests of Wall Street, alarmed at the frequent robberies of their messengers, in which millions in Liberty Bonds and other negotiable securities are stolen in the street to the extent of millions, find upon inquiry that a vast system of organized plunder exists dominated by a mysterious and sinister recluse known in the underworld as "The Evil Eye."

Would you like to know the "inside" story of the great Wall Street Bond Mystery? Every detail of this gigantic, sensational wholesale plot to rob banks and trust companies of millions is faithfully depicted in "The Evil Eye" by Roy L McCardell, in which the most popular lightweight champion of the world, Benny Leonard, has the star role. Remember, please that the first episode of this greatest of all serials, titled "Below the Dead Line," also the second episode, titled "In the House of the Blind Men," will be shown at this theatre Wednesday, May 19th See these two episodes and then follow—every one of the fifteen to the finish

Second episode, 'In the House of the Blind Men." The Evil Eye," the mysterious and hidden head of the great bond robbery organization, desires to obtain a million dollars in unregistered Liberty Bonds that David Druce, Wall Street banker, intends to have recorded in the name of his daughter, Dora Through the bravery of Frank Armstrong messenger of the Druce Bank these bonds have been saved in a street hold-up and taken to the Druce home and placed in a safe in the library of the mansion At the secret instigation of Denton Drake, a cousin and junior partner of David Druce, Dora Druce is mysteriously kidnaped from the observation platform of her father's car. Then things begin to happen in big bunches Be sure and see these first two episodes

NATIONAL THEATRE

Quite contrary to the usual cheapening toward the end of the stock season as many companies do, the National Theatre Company have reserved their best efforts for a strong finish "Mother," next week's selection, will more than prove this to all who doubt the statement.

For instance 'When a boy goes wrong towards his mother, there's generally some woman back of it.' You've seen that happen, haven't you? And can't you just picture that little mother, so proud of her children that she believes God created her for the sole purpose of raising them and when told that she doesn't understand certain things, she only replies "Too old to understand, eh" That's the cruelty of the years, my one great fear, the tragedy of mother love The fear of losing what it loves. You can't understand that, you wise modern young people, but it's an awful thing."

And oh how she fights to keep her grownup babies with her, or to mate them off properly. The mother instinct comes to the front when shallow women try to steal her boys away from her even getting one of them to steal, then forge his mother's name to a note calling for more than the entire undivided estate could be sold for.

"Mother" simply says the signature is her's and starts trying to raise the money to meet the note.

Of course there's a world of comedy the clean, wholesome kind, all through the play, especially by the two little boys, who stage a five round battle in the best room. Sneak in when big sister's beau is calling and many other things on up to reading Diamond Dicks and Nick Carters when they should be in bed, and last but not least, a wet sponge fight in the bathroom

At least two of the really great moments in a woman's life, when she gives her first kiss to her sweetheart and when she gives her first kiss to her own little baby. Not much of a destiny in that maybe but the woman who misses them, no matter how much else she may have or may gain she is more or less a failure

And yet "Mother" herself says that if they had always been chaperoned she probably wouldn't have caught her husband.

Delightful, interesting, full of bright spots and teaching a wonderful lesson, that's 'Mother".

The Amazing Story of a Dual Personality

In Stevenson's fantastic tragedy, Dr. Jekyll succeeds in proving his contention, and by the use of a compound which resulted from long experiments he is able to transform himself into the odious Mr. Hyde. Finally he becomes so impregnated with the drug that his body and nature involuntarily change, and he is forced to take the drug in order to bring himself back to Dr. Jekyll. Discovering at last that the drugs which he has been using in his experiments were impure, and that he cannot secure a further supply, he changes forever into Hyde, and ends his misery by self murder.

Woodlawn Theatre

This is another of the big weeks at the beautiful Woodlawn theatre with three extraordinary fine presentations of the highest grade and superior attractions.

Friday and Saturday, today and tomorrow, continuous from 2 to 11:30, will be the last of two days of "She Loves and Lies" with Norma Talmadge in triple leading role. In this adaptation of Wilkie Collins' story of the same name Miss Talmadge portrays three separate and distinct characters, each being of a different social caste, age and physicial appearance. Not only does the star make her portrayals realistic but she makes them convincing. It will be remembered that Wilkie Collins has his principal character so disguise herself as to completely make her own husband believe that she is another person, something that may be easily done on the printed pages of fiction but not so easy of accomplishment in real life or stage or screen. How Miss Talmadge "gets away with it" is but one of the many unusual things in "She Loves and Lies."

For Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, May 16th, 17th and 18th, matinee and night, comes Mary Miles Minter in a beautiful picturization of Israel Zangwill's "Nurse Marjorie," the most absorbing comedy-drama of the day. "Nurse Marjorie" is an adaptation of a successful play by the internationally known playwright, Israel Zangwill whose "The Melting Pot" was a sensational success in this country when published and produced some years ago. Much time and discrimination was given to the careful selection of the characters to appear in this big scene which shows Lady Marjorie, played by Miss Minter, breaking from her proud and aristocratic family to undertake a useful career as a nurse. The relatives in this family scene at Donegal Hall were recruited from the actual nationalities required story and were all typical Irish and English actors, selected on a basis of their physical adaptability to the parts.

On Wednesday and Thursday, May 19th and 20th, continuous 2 to 11:30, the great cinema classic "The Woman He Chose," a pathetic and homelike story of the "land of the midnight sun," and unanimously proclaimed the masterpiece of the day, and a play that is sure to please the intelligent clientele of the Woodlawn. Be sure to see this picture.

Why so many comedians on the stage essay the role of the tramp, who is fast passing into obscurity, is hard to imagine, but George Stone, the eccentric comedian with the "Stone and Pillard" show appearing at the Englewood theatre during the week of May 16th, is not doing a camouflage act.

George has ridden the "bumpers," rode "blind baggage," and done everything else in the tramp line that the other fellows have pulled off. Furthermore, he is not ashamed of it and counts his experiences in this line among the greatest he has had in a long life of things done by real men.

In the "jungles" George got close to nature and his trials there and on the road have equipped him for his stage life, for today he is considered the greatest "tramp" comedian on the stage.

This logic in the mind of the penniless and homeless young man has borne fruit, for today he occupies an enviable position in the theatrical world.

EMPRESS THEATRE

Never before in the successful history of the Empress theatre has there been a time in which so many big attractions have been booked and given the public. The amount of talent Manager Mitchell has secured for the summer season is a subject of remark in the Amusement world, and he goes along in his same old way, seeking even better each week. One feature of the Empress is the excellence of its music and it is the subject of many compliments. Not only does this excellent body of musicians give us the topical music of the day from the latest composers, but back into the classics and among the very best they go until their repertoire makes one happy to hear from the dizziest shimmy jazz to the heavenly strains of the old composers, who knew nothing but real music. The variety of the Empress entertainments is a feature and commends itself to the worn-out business man or woman or even the leisure class. They have the best of pictures, subjects of travels, as well as the latest released features and in addition have a string of star vaudeville acts that none of the city houses may equal. All that is latest and best, all that is good and beyond the ordinary is found at the Empress and you will see and hear it if you get the habit and follow the crowd.

A big bill.

On Sunday and Monday commencing from 2 to 11 it will be seen the charming and most versatile Norma Talmadge in one of the most pleasing roles of her career. "She Loves and Lies." When is a wife not a wife? When she wins her husband away from herself. That's what Marie did. He didn't love her so she quit being his wife and became his affinity and he fell head over heels in love with her. Then he went back to his wife and left her and that made her glad for then she won him. A complication of love romance and laughter. And with this is Johnny Ray in the novel society comedy based on Sidney, adapted from McManus' rich humored newspaper comics "Bringing Up Father." This is not a cartoon but a message of mirth a gale of giggles and a riot of fun and laughter from start to finish. Also Pathe News, and matinee only "Daredevil Jack" in which Jack Dempsey the little champion performs his wonderful feats. This big entertainment bill is a sure hit winner and no one can afford to miss it.

On Tuesday and Wednesday May 17th and 18th for a two day engagement only, America's greatest living actor John Barrymore will present the most marvelous production "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" Robert Louis Stevenson's wonderful story. The film follows the story closely telling how the young and philanthropic Dr. Jekyll discovered a mysterious liquid that would transform him into the grotesque brute that, under the name of Mr. Hyde, represented the evil side of his nature. He tains and his good and bad sides in separate bodies and could enjoy the pleasures of both. But eventually Hyde gained the ascendancy and to spite the young woman to whom he was engaged, the unfortunate Jekyll took poison. Mr. Barrymore's portrayal must be reckoned among the most intelligent and effective that he has offered on stage or screen. He manifests a keen understanding of and sympathy with his role and plays it with finesse. His Hyde is more than a masterpiece of makeup it is the living personification of cruel cunning. He makes of Dr. Jekyll a man almost godlike in form and character.

Thursday May 20th for one day only Frank Keenan the veteran actor of America in a striking drama of society leaders who hide their secret lives under the cloak of respectability entitled "Dollar for Dollar." What kind of a man would strike a woman through her daughter? This is one of the interesting questions raised in "Dollar for Dollar" the new Frank Keenan feature at the Harvard. The vile Victor Mordant sought to hurt Mrs. Marteen who was Fleckmulinhim (Sp) he money he had stolen from her husband. He gave proof to her daughter that her mother was a criminal but Frank Keenan stepped into the delicate situation and handled it in his usual masterly and dramatic way.

Modern Gold-Edge Screen
LINDEN THEATRE
63rd Street at Halsted

The rapidly increasing patronage of the popular Linden Theatre is no doubt due to the fact that Manager Thomas Johnson is ever alive to the requirements of his patrons and is clever enough to put over such productions as appeals to them. This is an art in the film game and "Tom" knows the ins and outs, which linked with service, courtesy and close attention to details, and last, but not least an exceptionally good orchestra and pipe organ, makes the Linden a very popular photo playhouse.

Friday and Saturday May 14th and 15th first two days John Barrymore in Robert Louis Stevenson's story "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" as played by Richard Mansfield. The amazing story of a dual personality. In Stevenson's fantastic tragedy Dr. Jekyll succeeds in proving his contention and by the use of a compound which resulted from long experiments he is able to transform himself into the odious Mr. Hyde. Finally he becomes so impregnated with the drug that his body and brain mechanisms change and he is forced to take the drug in order to bring himself back to Dr. Jekyll. Discovering at last that the drugs which he has been using in his experiments were impure and that he cannot secure a further supply he changes forever into Hyde and ends his misery by self murder. Also our added short subjects on each of these days.

Sunday May 16th When beauty meets speed then the real thrills begin. Lucky as Luck with an all star cast. It tells a tale of a band of lunatics who lived in the Adirondack Mountains, didn't believe in marriage and held that communion with the outside world was a crime. Into this band comes Sir Conan O'Hara with his beautiful daughter who causes all sorts of desires to form themselves in the mind and person of the leader of the gang. From which she is only saved in the nick of time by the gay hero from the outside world. A story we all will like. Also usual interesting special reels added.

Monday May 17th Constance Binney in "The Stolen Kiss." Based on Lucille Van Slyke's novel "Little Miss by the Day." She is a child of royalty yet she goes out seeking by the day to support herself and the flood of young geniuses she discovers. Then she hides from her lover because she thinks she has lost her beauty. But has he? A big theatrical man thinks not. And he's true—well you'll see for yourselves the picture.

Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19th and 20th Treasure Island is still the issue in screen version. With Shirley Mason and a well chosen all-star cast it is a master production. If you like the romance of pirates and hidden treasure of old sailing vessels and lonely islands you'll enjoy each moment of this presentation of Robert Louis Stevenson's tale. He looked into the heart of a lad, and with the dreams and fancies he found there he wove a story for other boys. And now it has been made into a play that takes you far from the ordinary workaday world into the Land of Let's Pretend.

Coming—Wm. S. Hart in "The Toll Gate"

Thursday and Friday May 20th and 21st William Farnum in "The Orphan" a love story of the desert plains with the dash and spirit of the great outdoors. Bill back to Wild West garb once more. Bill Farnum always at his best in westerns has one of those favorite roles in "The Orphan." This time Bill is a bold bad man made so by desire for revenge but he has a soft heart at times. The times happened most fortunate for him. His kindness wins for him the friendship of the sheriff who should, by all good movie canons be his sworn enemy. Later on backed by a display of heroism it paves the way for a romance which completely reforms outlaw Bill.

Coming—Priscilla Dean in "The Virgin of Stamboul."

Coming—Wm. S. Hart in "The Toll Gate."

Coming—For one big week "Why Change Your Wife."

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

Only a Dad

Only a dad with a tired face,
Coming home from the daily race,
Bringing little of gold or fame
To show how well he has played the game,
But glad in his heart that his own rejoice
To see him come and to hear his voice.

Only a dad, neither rich nor proud,
Merely one of the surging crowd,
Toiling, striving from day to day,
Facing whatever may come his way,
Silent, whenever the harsh condemn
And bearing it all for love of them.

Only a dad, but he gives his all
To smooth the way for his children small,
Doing with courage set and grim
The deeds that his father did for him.
This is a line that for him I pen,
Only a dad, but the best of men.

A certain brilliant young actress recently told me that all stage girls were fond of encores, no matter whether they were suppers, applause or marriages.

An Irishman who was a bricklayer, and who was evicted, went to America to find work. When he was passing through New York he saw some bricklayers at work, and stood looking at them While he was standing the foreman came over and said to him: "Well, Pat, are you able to build houses as quick as this in Dublin? We start a house in the morning and the tenant is living in it in the evening." "Well, begorra!" said Pat, "that's nothing In Dublin we start a house in the morning and the landlord is evicting the tenant from it in the evening."

Two young kindergarten teachers, intelligent and attractive, while riding down town in a street car, were engaged in an animated discussion. In the seat behind them sat a good-natured, fatherly looking Irishman enjoying a nap. Finally one kindergartner inquired of the other: "How many children have you?" "Twenty-two," he replied. "And how many have you?" "Oh, I have only nineteen," replied the first. At this point the Irishman, now wide awake with astonishment, leaned forward in his seat and, without any formality, inquired in a loud voice: "What part of Ireland did youse come from?"

Den Bickford Beaten by Robbers

Den A. Bickford of the Ideal School Supply publishers, and for twenty-five years in the printing business in Englewood, while putting his auto in a private garage in the rear of 530 61st pl. Monday night about 10 o'clock, was attacked by four young ruffians, who after holding him up, and finding little of value besides his watch, beat him up in an unmerciful manner, using a wrench or some heavy blunt instrument. His nose was broken also his cheek bone and his right eye badly bruised and other injuries inflicted. He was cared for by Mr. C. E. Clark and family, who live in the house in front of the garage, and the police summoned, but as yet no trace has been found of the brutal ruffians. Mr. Bickford is confined to his home at 5946 Princeton ave. and is suffering great pain and can give but slight account of the assault.

Prof. Edward A. Sterner, of Grinnell College, Iowa, will deliver the closing lecture of the most successful series of lectures of the Englewood Sunday Evening club next Sunday evening. Dr. Stair Preaches on Baseball

Rev. George R. Stair, the popular new pastor of the Englewood Baptist church, is delivering a very interesting series of Sunday evening addresses based on our great national sport—baseball. Last Sunday evening he spoke to a large audience on "The Man in the Box," pointing out some of the attributes of a successful pitcher that are also essential in other walks of life. Young men will be especially interested in these addresses. Next Sunday evening at 7:30 Dr. Stair will deliver the second address of the series, his subject being "Going Down to First." If you were among the hundreds present last Sunday evening you will need no urging to be on hand to hear the second address. If you missed last Sunday evening's talk be sure and hear this one on "Going Down to First." These addresses will increase in interest as they go on. It is surprising what interesting and valuable lessons, especially for young people, Dr. Stair, who is a pronounced "fan," can draw from the game of baseball, which he terms the best and cleanest sport in the world. Come and hear a man who thoroughly understands the game, having pitched and occupied other positions on college teams, and who knows what he is talking about.

Sunday morning at 10:30 Dr. Stair will preach on "The Unfailing Presence." Fine music and a cordial welcome to all services. All seats entirely free Sit where you please, down stairs or in the gallery.
